TAMARACK

North Central High School

Spokane, Washington

June, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Nine

Co-Editors: Shirley Kookan, Jack Gross
Adviser: Miss Mary McKenna

"Dad"

"Honor for Honor Due . . ."

To Elsa Pinkham and Lowell C. Bradford, who have given unselfishly of their time and service for all that is traditional and dear to North Central, we proudly dedicate this 1949 Tamarack, in hopes that in some small measure we may repay them.

For years the Doll Shops, the operettas, and the spring pageants have won praise and acclaim for North Central. Our band has received many honors—among them, the Sweepstakes awards at the Apple Blossom Festival at Wenatchee.

Yes, to Miss Pinkham and Mr. Bradford, we extend our heartfelt thanks and our best wishes for many successful and happy years to come.

Foreword

“North Central, North Central,
Oh, deep from thy rugged walls...”

Within the walls of the American high school lies the opportunity for success in life. As the carpenter needs sturdy tools for a fine finished product, so the student needs education for his career. Education is his tool — his key to unlock the doors of achievement.

Throughout the pages of this book, we have endeavored to present a picture of school life — the subjects we study, the activities and sports in which we engage, and the ideals toward which we strive.

Education, then, is a term which should bring to mind more than knowledge acquired from books. It creates a sense of responsibility, the ability to work with and cooperate with the people about you.

“When one door closes to us, another opens. The trouble is that we often look with so much regret and longing upon the closed door, that we do not see the one which has opened.”

Dear Bruce,
I'm wishing a swell guy,
All the luck in the world,
I hope to have you in home room next yr.
Love,
Dorothy Dellomy

Class activities are akin to life experiences

Many leading figures in history have had simple beginnings. They were greatly handicapped by lack of formal education. But what they lacked in education, they made up in initiative. Today in American schools the picture has changed. We now enjoy many benefits of free education—modern buildings, up-to-date equipment, and competent instructors.

The large scope of subjects offered today has done much to develop creative abilities. Supplementary activities, along with the regular classroom courses, aid one in planning his future career. These supplementary subjects have developed many promising skills and self-styled methods.

Regardless of the time and effort put forth, complementary courses have created a sense of responsibility and cooperation.

True, additional study has been required for these courses. But what could be more satisfying than learning by actual experience . . . working with classmates, sharing their interests, profiting by common mistakes.

Where else, as young neophytes, can we acquire the true meaning and need of cooperation and friendship than in high school—working side by side with each other?

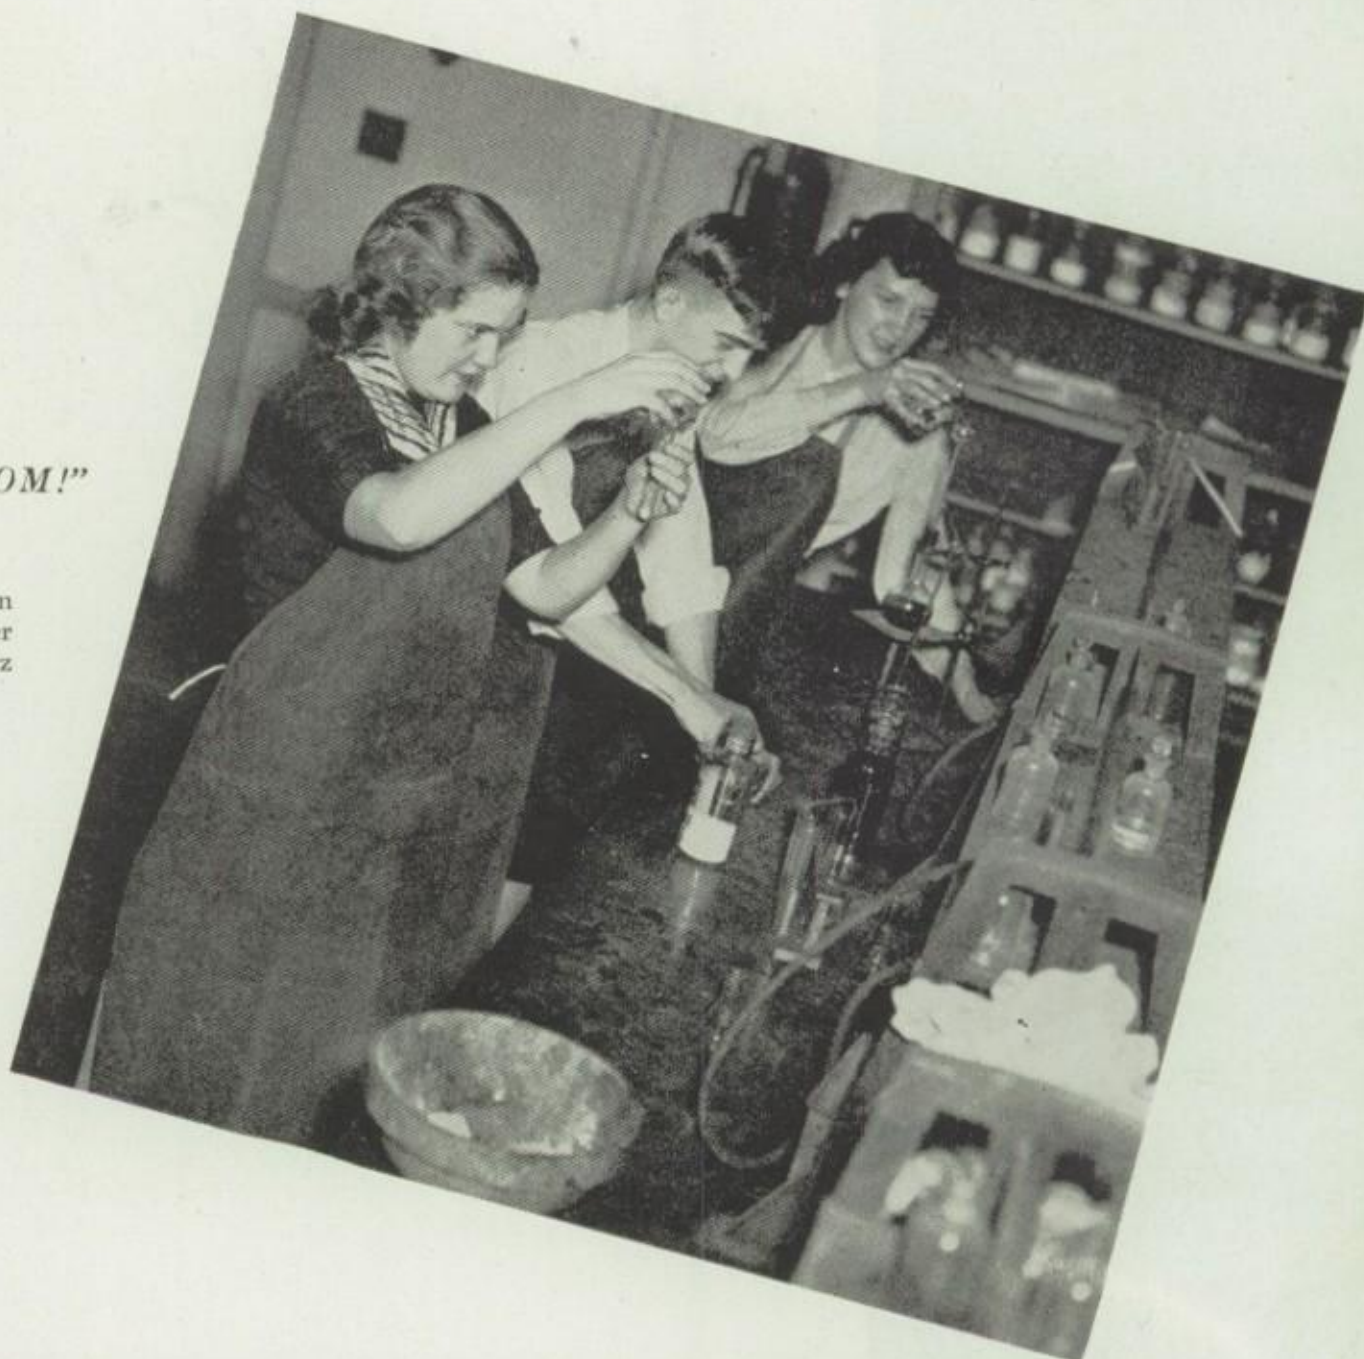

The first work with wet, clammy clay, the first whiff of suffocating hydrogen sulfide, and numerous other “firsts” experienced in high school will be something to look back on and laugh over in future years.

Student government at North Central is carried on through the work of the Associated Student councils. The central council of the Girls' League and the executive council of the Boys' Federation form the Associated Student Councils.

☆ Associated

Striving to promote student interest in various activities and increase general school welfare, the councils have supervision over the Junior Red Cross, the conduct board, and the work of several joint committees.

The inter-school relations committee, sponsored at North Central by the A.S.C., has continued its work to establish better friendships between North Central students and other city schools. It presented a convocation before Lewis and Clark students in the fall, and participated in an all-school convocation in the spring.

Student Councils

Among the activities of the councils this school year was the Peace Pipe Powwow. Guests of the party were officers of the city high school student body governments.

The dance committee, under the auspices of the associated councils, presented the Sadie Hawkins dance. It is an annual dance for all students and is given at the school.

At Christmas the A. S. C. carried the Yuletide spirit to the Matlow sanitarium. They decorated the home and sang carols to the patients there.

"Friendship Week" was another of the councils' activities. A. S. C. initiated the idea last year and it is now proposed as an annual event. It is observed at North Central to make and strengthen friendships among all the students.

The League . . . a welcome friend, counselor

Membership in the Girls' League, under the supervision of Miss Patricia Damon and Miss Helen Cleveland, includes all the girls in the school.

Central Council, the ruling body of the League, is made up of department heads, committee chairmen, and the floor chairmen of the room representatives. The League officers, elected by the girls, preside over Central Council and all League convocations.

To be on the League honor roll, each semester, a girl must have grades of C or better and have earned ten League points by serving in one of the League departments. For two semesters of service, a bronze pin is awarded, four semesters a silver pin, six semesters a gold pin, eight semesters a ruby set in a gold pin. Those on the honor roll for one, three, five, and seven semesters receive honorable mention. A girls' convocation is held each semester to award these pins.

The emblem of the League is embossed on each pin: Honor, represented by an American flag; service, by the head of a young girl; and loyalty, by the flag of the American Red Cross.

A party is given each semester for the new girls. Senior counselors are appointed each semester to acquaint the new girls with the school and "big cousins" guide the girls to and from their classes the first two days.

The Federation, a fellowship devoted to boys

Founded 31 years ago by its present adviser, Lowell C. Bradford, the Boys' Federation was established to promote activities among the boys of North Central.

Outstanding among the Fed's many activities is the semi-annual New Boys' stag, a party given to introduce the new boys to North Central.

One of the many awards sponsored by the Federation is the Archie Buckley Inspirational Award, which is presented annually to the football player who is voted by his teammates to be the greatest inspiration to the squad. The award was won this year by Bob Lattanzio.

The Federation also awards plaques to the winning classes in all the various sports in the Sports-for-All program.

Officers for the fall semester were:

President, Gene Lister; vice president, Bill Wilkinson; financial secretary, Don Osborn; treasurer, Chuck Gerlach; and clerk, Wally Freeman.

Spring officers were: President, Rich Munroe; vice president, Ken Benshoof; financial secretary, Chuck Gerlach; treasurer, Louis Becker; and clerk, Joe Simpson.

Department heads for the fall and spring semester, respectively, were: Personal service, Leon Bardsley and Keith Campbell; community service, Joe Simpson and Tom Evans; school service, Mickey McHargue and Jim Thomas; and Sports-for-All, Louis Becker and Leon Bardsley.

The Federation council, which includes the officers, department heads, representatives of special activities and clubs and dues lieutenants, conducts the business of the organization.

The News . . . reflects the activity of the school

The North Central News is planned, written, and published by members of the journalism classes under the direction of Miss Mary McKenna, publications adviser.

The News received the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Medalist Award in 1948, has rated All-American for 12 years, and Pacemaker in 1939, '40, '41, and '46. Quill and Scroll international honors were won in 1946 and 1947 with the George H. Gallup award for outstanding community service in the same years.

Four members of the staff are appointed semiannually to the Junior Press club. Meetings are held once a month with newspaper and radio men as speakers, and members are frequently asked to press conferences where they have an opportunity to meet and talk with famous celebrities visiting Spokane.

Editor for the fall semester was Grace Clark. Associate editors were John Gross and Rich Munroe. Dona Tokarz was news editor; Dorothy Cosby, editorial page editor; Bob Dwinell, sports editor; Carol Frost, advertising manager; Dick Kuelpman, bookkeeper; Tom Brown, staff photographer. Activities promote understanding Activity, says Webster, is the quality of doing; brisk and lively movement.

At North Central, the word means more than that. There has been "doing" in methodic classroom work and with books; but there has also been much doing in creative activities.

Whether the activity be philanthropic or social, one learns the fundamental essentials of cooperation, understanding, and consideration for others.

The school clubs, representative of activity, have promoted friendships among the students and the faculty as well. They have helped students and teachers understand one another more fully. By working with fellow members one learns the fundamentals of getting along with others. The clubs have been a source of pride to their members. Each succeeding year has seen improvements for the common welfare.

The Red Feathers, the Color Girls, and the band continue as always to uphold North Central traditions. They have long been noted for their performances at parades, games, and school productions, and North Central is justly proud of them.

The News and the Tamarack staffs not only produce a weekly newspaper which wins national acclaim each year and a year-book which is the pride of the school, but most important, the members of the staff get a vital, practical, worthwhile experience which will prove advantageous to each one no matter what his chosen profession.

The League and the Federation, representing our school government, reflect the opinions of the entire student body.

Everywhere—activity.

Radio Choir . . . Orchestra . . . Choir

Orchestra, choir, and the new musical group, Tepee Lighters, have completed a full and active year under the direction of W. Stanley Taft.

With its membership increased to 75, the choir enjoyed a successful year by singing in the operetta, at Baccalaureate exercises, at a Town Meeting, and on the radio. The group competed against other high schools in the Greater Spokane Music Festival and in the Inter-High School Musical Festival. Donna Evans, soprano, Dorothy Mele, alto, and Gene Lister, tenor, were chosen to represent the group and sing in a choir of 500 voices at the Northwest Music Educators Conference at Portland in March. The choir also joined the orchestra and Tepee Lighters in producing for the first time the new musical "Melody Capers."

The orchestra, also with an increase in enrollment, has provided music for the operetta, the Baccalaureate, the Commencement, and various radio programs. Laura Stewart, concert mistress, was chosen to attend the conference in Portland and take part in a symphony of 250 students.

Tepee Lighters, the singing group newly organized this spring, is composed of twenty-four boys and girls selected from the choir to represent the school at outside performances for service groups. The music of the Tepee Lighters is of a lighter, more popular type. They made their first public appearance in "Melody Capers" and over KGA.

The North Central band on parade . . .

The North Central band entered the twenty-seventh year under the baton of its note-worthy director, Lowell C. Bradford, with an enrollment of 142 boys for each of the fall and spring semesters. The concert band numbered 104.

Fall activities began with an appearance with the Red Feathers and Color Girls in presenting a half-time stunt, "Transportation," in the Merry-Go-Round at Ferris field. The band played at all North Central football games and presented half-time entertainment for home games. It also participated in the pre-game ceremonies at the Shrine game and marched in the Armistice Day parade.

Half-time entertainment at the Lewis and Clark-North Central game by the band and the girls' marching units, under the direction of Miss Elsa Pinkham, saw a "Salute to the Coaches." The crowning of the fall sports princess took place at the Rogers-North Central game.

A pay convocation and the forty-seventh formal concert were given on February 2 and 3. This was the first winter concert in many years. Guest soloist Carol Jeane Babbitt, violin, and Glenn Salmon, trumpet, were the featured performers.

The concert band opened the spring semester by playing for the Town Meeting at Lewis and Clark on March 4. On April 20 and 21, the forty-eighth formal concert and pay convocation were presented. The feature number of the concert was the premier presentation of C. Olin Rice's "North Central Waltz" based on themes of "Red and Black" and "Go North Central."

Five members of the band represented the school in the all-Northwest band during the latter part of March in Portland. They were: Tom Evans, Tom Burch, Merlyn Anderberg, Don Berg, and Jim Winton.

Other spring activities included appearances in the Washington Apple Blossom Festival at Wenatchee, the Memorial Day parade, the spring pageant, and a concert given at Havermale by a 50-piece band composed mostly of Havermale graduates.

Under the student leadership of Dick Eppley, with Lowell C. Bradford as adviser, the 20-piece Pep Band participated in many school events and extra-curricular activities during the fall and spring semesters.

Several notable performances included appearances in the Fox-Chronicle show, the Interschool Relations convocation at Lewis and Clark, the A. S. C. special convocation, and the Havermale grads convocation at Havermale.

Music for all pep cons and for several school dances was also furnished by the band. Programs of popular music were played at the intermissions of the forty-seventh and forty-eighth formal concerts.

"Melody Capers," spring musical, was directed by W. Stanley Taft. The Choir, the Teepee Lighters, and the Orchestra participated. The show was presented for a student matinee and an evening performance.

The program included dances to modern melodies and Gay Ninety tunes, vocal soloists, a piano quartet, and choir and orchestra numbers. The piano quartet was composed of Marvin Lanphere, Everett Story, Larry Held, and Ralph Ferguson. Vocal soloists were Barbara Crosby, Charles Carman, Marilou Warwick, Charlene Rice, Donna Evans, Beverly Fanning, and Dorothy Mele.

Many people behind the scenes were responsible for making the show the success that it was. Exotic costumes were made by the period 6 sewing class under the direction of Miss Agnes McHugh, modernistic backdrops were designed by Kenneth Mhyre of the art department, and the quick scene changes were credited to George Theodorsen and his stage crew.

THE HITHER AND THITHER OF DANNY DITHER

Dolores Straub smiles gayly in the role of a warm-blooded Spanish dancer.

"Virtue won't hurt you"—or so angelic Danny Dither moralizes in this year's thirty-seventh annual operetta, "The Hither and Thither of Danny Dither," by Alex North. The fantasy was presented in December under the supervision of W. Stanley Taft, Miss Elsa Pinkham, and Lucile Elliott Hawes.

Lucifer L. Lucas (the devil), arriving in heaven incognito, demands the abolishment of the Faith, Hope, and Charity department. J. J. Judkins, head of the department, decides to give Hope, Faith, and Charity an opportunity to prove their usefulness.

The angelic trio, to secure proof for their cause, threaten, bribe, and finally push their fun-loving office boy, Danny, out of heaven to secure the vital information.

Lower right—"Mya poor monkey," chants the organ grinder Gary Sanders to Danny Dither, and the jitterbugs, Carol Frost, Jack Lyons, and Joanie Milam.

Landing in New York, Danny finds the land of opportunity brimming over with people of varied nationality. Everyone gets into the act—from the fun-loving Spanish to the jitterbugging Harlem.

At the final curtain, virtue is triumphant. Danny, because of his goodness, is restored to earth among his mortal friends, Daisy, the Duke, Droopy, and the rest of the city brats; the Faith, Hope, and Charity department is re-established; and Lucifer receives a one-way ticket back to his red Inferno.

The age-old fable of lovely and deserving Cinderella re-enacts itself in this year's senior class presentation "The Divine Flora," by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements. The teen-age comedy was presented in January under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Elliot Hawes, dramatics instructor.

Cinderella, in this case shy and reserved Etta Dean, is a ravishing beauty, yet a wallflower. She, because of her inferior and over-adoring father complex, added to an unflattering appearance, scares all prospective beaus away. To remedy the situation Randy and Buzz, her two contriving publicity-minded companions, take over the obligations of fairy godmother. They give her a big buildup, change her name from homespun Etta to exotic Flora, and then sit back to watch the results.

The effects of the publicity job are astonishing. Etta (Flora) blossoms into a breath-taking beauty. Everywhere eligible young men clamor for her attention. The results are so startling that even business-minded Randy and Buzz are dazzled by her loveliness.

The 1948 Indian football team had a none-too-successful season. However, with the many juniors and sophomores and the two freshmen on the squad, things look bright for the future.

In the first league game, the Braves were thumped by Gonzaga in a high-scoring 30-21 affair. Wilkinson intercepted a pass for one touchdown and drove over for another to lead the N. C. scoring parade. Lyons went 76 yards on a reverse, putting on a beautiful display of broken-field running, for the other Tribe tally. This wasn't enough as Gonzaga's touchdown twins, Dick Sprague and Joe Lynch, broke away for five touchdowns.

home field found Joe Lynch scoring three times and Dick Sprague once. Bob Lattanzio was moved up to quarterback for the game and was the offensive star for the Tribe, scoring on a quarterback sneak. The final score was 26-7.

The L. C. series found the Red and Black squad playing their best games of the year. The first game ended with N. C. on the short end of 13-6 score. Wilkinson sped 68 yards for the lone tally. Merle Nead and Carl Johnson scored for the Bengals.

In the second meeting, the "Injuns" came closer to victory than they did all season. The game ended in a 7-7 deadlock. The Tribe scored first when Wilkinson gathered in the second-half kickoff, and scampered 82 yards to pay dirt. L. C.'s score came a few plays later when Nead scored from 30 yards out.

feat in the first meeting of the two clubs—39-0. The only threat N. C. made was in the second period when Chuck Gerlach, showing bits of his old form, sparked a drive from the N. C. 5 to the Rogers 18. Sophomore Virg Duchow showed promise as a replacement for injured Wilkinson.

The final game between these two schools was a much closer contest—ending 13-0, Rogers. The Tribe just couldn't get their offense rolling, but stopped the Bucs cold a number of times. The highlight of the game came when Rogers had the ball on the N. C. 4, first and goal to go. The N. C. line held, and took over on the 8.

The last game of the season for the Red and Black Warriors was with the Great Falls Bisons, Montana state champions. The game ended 33-26 in favor of Great Falls.

After getting off to a slow start, the B squad came roaring back to win their last four games and finish the season in "high gear."

The Javees dropped their first three games to Gonzaga, Lewis and Clark, and Rogers by scores of 12-0, 7-0, and 21-0, respectively. But the second round of play was a different story as many of the boys cut from Varsity joined the squad.

defeat of Lewis and Clark—as they won by a score of 12-0. Louie Pollack scored both touchdowns. Next to feel the weight of the Javees were the Gonzaga Bulldogs whom they defeated 12-6. The B squadders finished their league play by taking Rogers into camp, 12-0. Dick Stacy and Creighton Darling scored the N. C. touchdowns.

In the final game of the season they dumped the Central Valley Bears 19-14. Darling scored all three N. C. touchdowns.

Although the Papooses were victorious in only one game, they showed plenty of promise and improved greatly as the season progressed.

Their first game at West Valley ended 6-0 in favor of the "Valleyites." Their next game found them up against a much bigger and more experienced Lakeland Village eleven and ended 19-6 in favor of the Villagers. The outstanding feature of this game was the punting of Roy Hardin.

The Young Braves dropped their first league game to Lewis and Clark 26-0, on the Orange and Black field. The next tilt found them playing their best game of the year—as they downed Gonzaga 20-0. Skip Pixley was the star of the game—he scored the first touchdown and was in on nearly every tackle. The Greenies dropped their last game of the season to Rogers by a score 20-6.

One veteran, four lettermen, and a large squad of inexperienced aspirants greeted the new head basketball coach, Ted Boyett. But Mr. Boyett installed a new system of play and went through a rugged pre-season schedule with 14 wins and 2 losses. The defeats came at the hands of the strong Coeur d'Alene Vikings and the Omak Pioneers. The Red and Black quintet downed such strong teams as Missoula and Helena of the Montana big 16 conference. They ended in a three-way tie for second in the city league with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses.

The Rogers series proved to be the most exciting. The first game found the underdog Indian team outclassing a much bigger Pirate quintet and win 36-26. The second meeting was a thriller as the Pirates came out on the long end of a 35-33 score. A last quarter surge by the Warriors almost spelled disaster for the Hillyard gang.

Gonzaga seems to play their best games against North Central—and this year was no exception. In their first encounter, the Tribe squeezed out a 34-31 overtime victory. An improved Zag quintet took the second encounter by a score of 39-26.

Lewis and Clark's classy city championship outfit was the only aggregation to down the Red and Black twice—the first time by a score of 34-26. The last meeting found the Tigers hitting an amazing 40 per cent of their shots while North Central hit 30 per cent. But the Elsie's height proved to be the deciding factor. The final score was 56-42.

West Valley proved to be the only aggregation the Warriors could down twice. The Eagles threw a scare into the Tribe in the first game as they led for three quarters. But a last quarter surge by the Tribe carried them to victory, 37-33. The second meeting was a different story and found Coach Boyett substituting freely and coasting to 55-33 win.

Playing their last year for North Central were six seniors: Jerry Webster, Gene Lister, Bill Wilkinson, Jim Thomas, Tracy Walters, and Fred Martin. Martin made both city papers' all-city teams; Ken Ben-shoof was first string Review and second string Chronicle. Martin was also voted "the most valuable player" in the league.

Under the capable coaching of Al Danielson and Bob Hoesley, the scrappy, hard-working B squad hoop quintet copped the city B league title, winning six and losing two.

With a season record of eleven wins and five losses, the team as a whole was short, but their never-say-die spirit was the valuable cog during the season. The fact that all players were sophomores added extra lime-light toward varsity teams during the next two years.

Playing a majority of the games were: Jack Evenoff, Keith Darling, Bill McKay, Virg Duchow, Andy Erickson, Mickey Rizzuto, Don Flemming, Dick Stacy, Darrel Kuelpman, Paul Carlson, and Dick Schram.

Frosh Basketball . . . silhouettes of the future

The freshman hoopsters, coached by Nip Hagen and John Rodkey, dropped their first six contests but finished strong to wind up with eleven wins and nine losses.

In the city freshman league, with Havermale and Libby participating for the first time, the Indians ended up in a second place tie with Havermale and Lewis and Clark, winning six and dropping four. The squad handed Rogers its only city league loss.

Starting assignments usually went to Jerry Mason, Glen Meinke, Ken Sears, Neil McKeever, Skip Pixley, Don Fraser, and John Cozzetto. The team had plenty of hustle and fight and gained valuable experience.

"B" Squad Baseball . . . next year's team?

B-SQUAD COACH—Nip Hagen.

North Central's "B" Baseball squad, newly formed in 1948, gives all the boys not good enough to make the A squad a chance to play baseball. It also gives them a chance to gain valuable experience which they would not get if they were sitting on the A squad bench. Coaching the B squad is Ken Hagen, wood shop instructor.

The B squad plays their games Wednesday afternoons on the playfield. A double round robin schedule was played with each team playing six games.

Frosh Baseball . . . future city champions?

The freshman baseball squad—"the best in years!" This summarizes the frosh baseball situation at North Central, according to head coach Bill Diedrick.

As this book goes to press, the starting line-up looks like Jack Vill at third, Johnny Cozetto at shortstop, Bruce Grandstaff at second, Gary Hetherington at first, and outfielders Johnny Tuft, Mike Fraser, and Don Wallin.

The pitching staff will be built around two promising hurlers, Jerry Christeson and Jerry Walton. About 25 men answered Coach Diedrick's first call for practice.

Cross Country . . . speed, stamina---champs

The North Central cross country team, perpetual city champions, did it again in 1948.

Under the coaching of Guy Barnes, the Indian harriers had an undefeated season. Rogers fell before the Tribe, 15-60; Gonzaga was dropped, 15-74; and then the Indians outran the L. C. Tigers, 27-28 for the city championship.

Next was the Banana Belt race, which the Tribe won handily, defeating five teams in the process.

The future looks bright for next season as three lettermen, Don Barth, Willie Boyd, and Jack Holmberg, are returning. They were steady point-getters last fall.

The North Central track team has a good chance of repeating as city champions again this year, according to Coach Guy Barnes.

The Tribe has nine lettermen returning from last season's championship squad. The sprints will be handled by Mickey McHargue and Joe Simpson. Les Collins should be strong in the mile, and George Hills will be a point-getter in the 880.

The field events are strong also, as Jim Homberg, Bill Klise, and Bob Ytreeide are all returning in the pole vault, and Roland Smith and Ytreeide are back for the high jump.

The 440 and shot put are the only events minus lettermen, but there are strong contenders out for these positions.

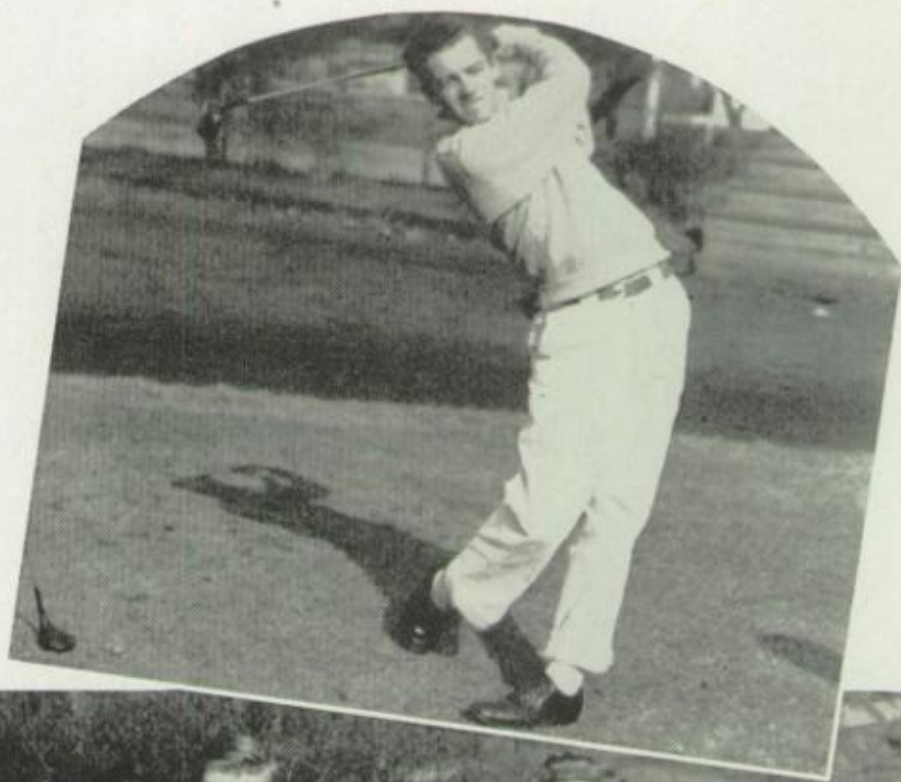

Boys' Golf . . . looks like the good ol' days

Things look bright for golf at North Central. The team has five returning lettermen and many good prospects.

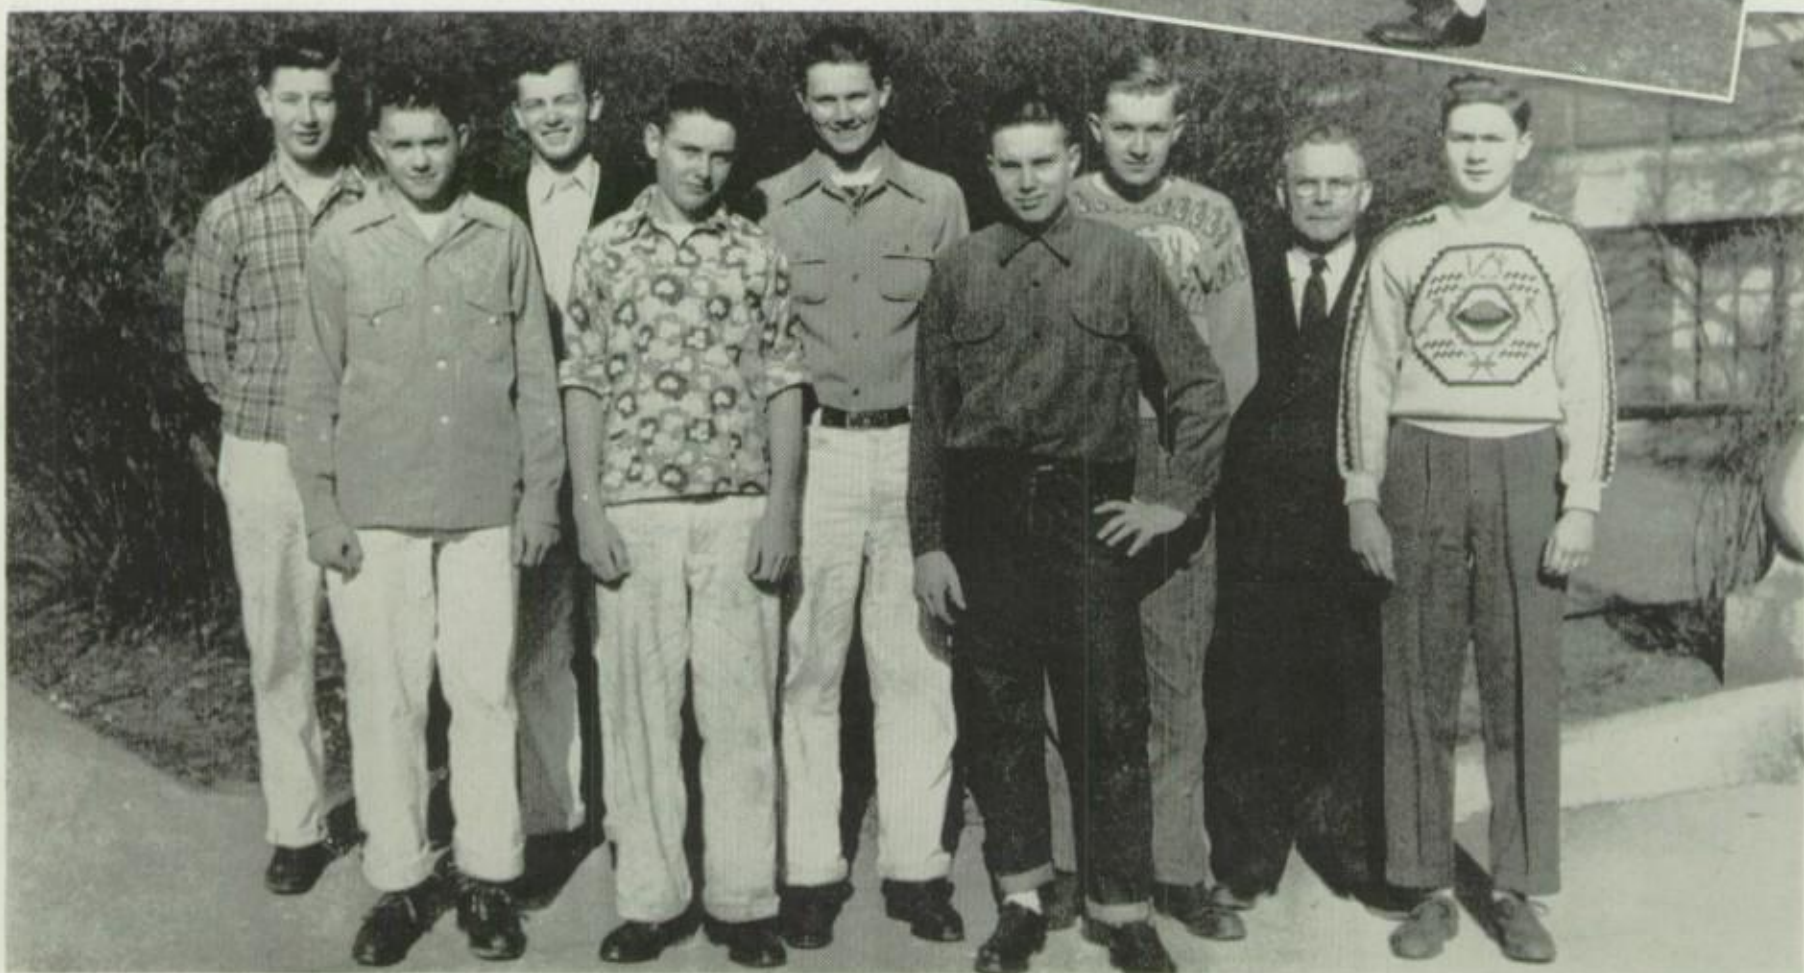

The lettermen include captain Carl Funseth, Ward Sligh, Frank Wells, Jim Norton, and Jim Tefft. Good-looking prospects are Rodney Funseth, Gordon Anderson, Don Weaver, and Bob Goodwin.

Gonzaga, the defending champions, have two men back—Pat and Joe Lynch. Lewis and Clark also have two top men in John Halin and Tommy Oldershaw.

"We have a large turnout," stated Captain Funseth, "many of them just over from Havermale. We should have a better-balanced team than the others and are out to bring the championship back to North Central."

Boys' Tennis . . . booming rackets blast foes

Winning the undisputed city league tennis title rests in the hands of three returning lettermen and several other capable veterans. Rogers, co-champions with the Indians last year, will be the main obstacle of Coach Hix's squad.

The beginning league match will be May 9, against Lewis and Clark. Double round-robin matches will be played with each team in the league. Besides playing Lewis and Clark, Rogers, and Gonzaga, matches are scheduled with the Washington State college freshmen, with Lewiston, and with Clarkston.

The three returning lettermen this year are Rich Munroe, Roy Holien, and Jim Thomas. Likely non-lettermen prospects include Bill Wilkinson, Tom Evans, Don Lane, Alvin Byrne, and Bill Hoaglund.

Sports - for - all . . . wrestling, swimming,

WARREN RIOPELLE: Director of Sports-for-All

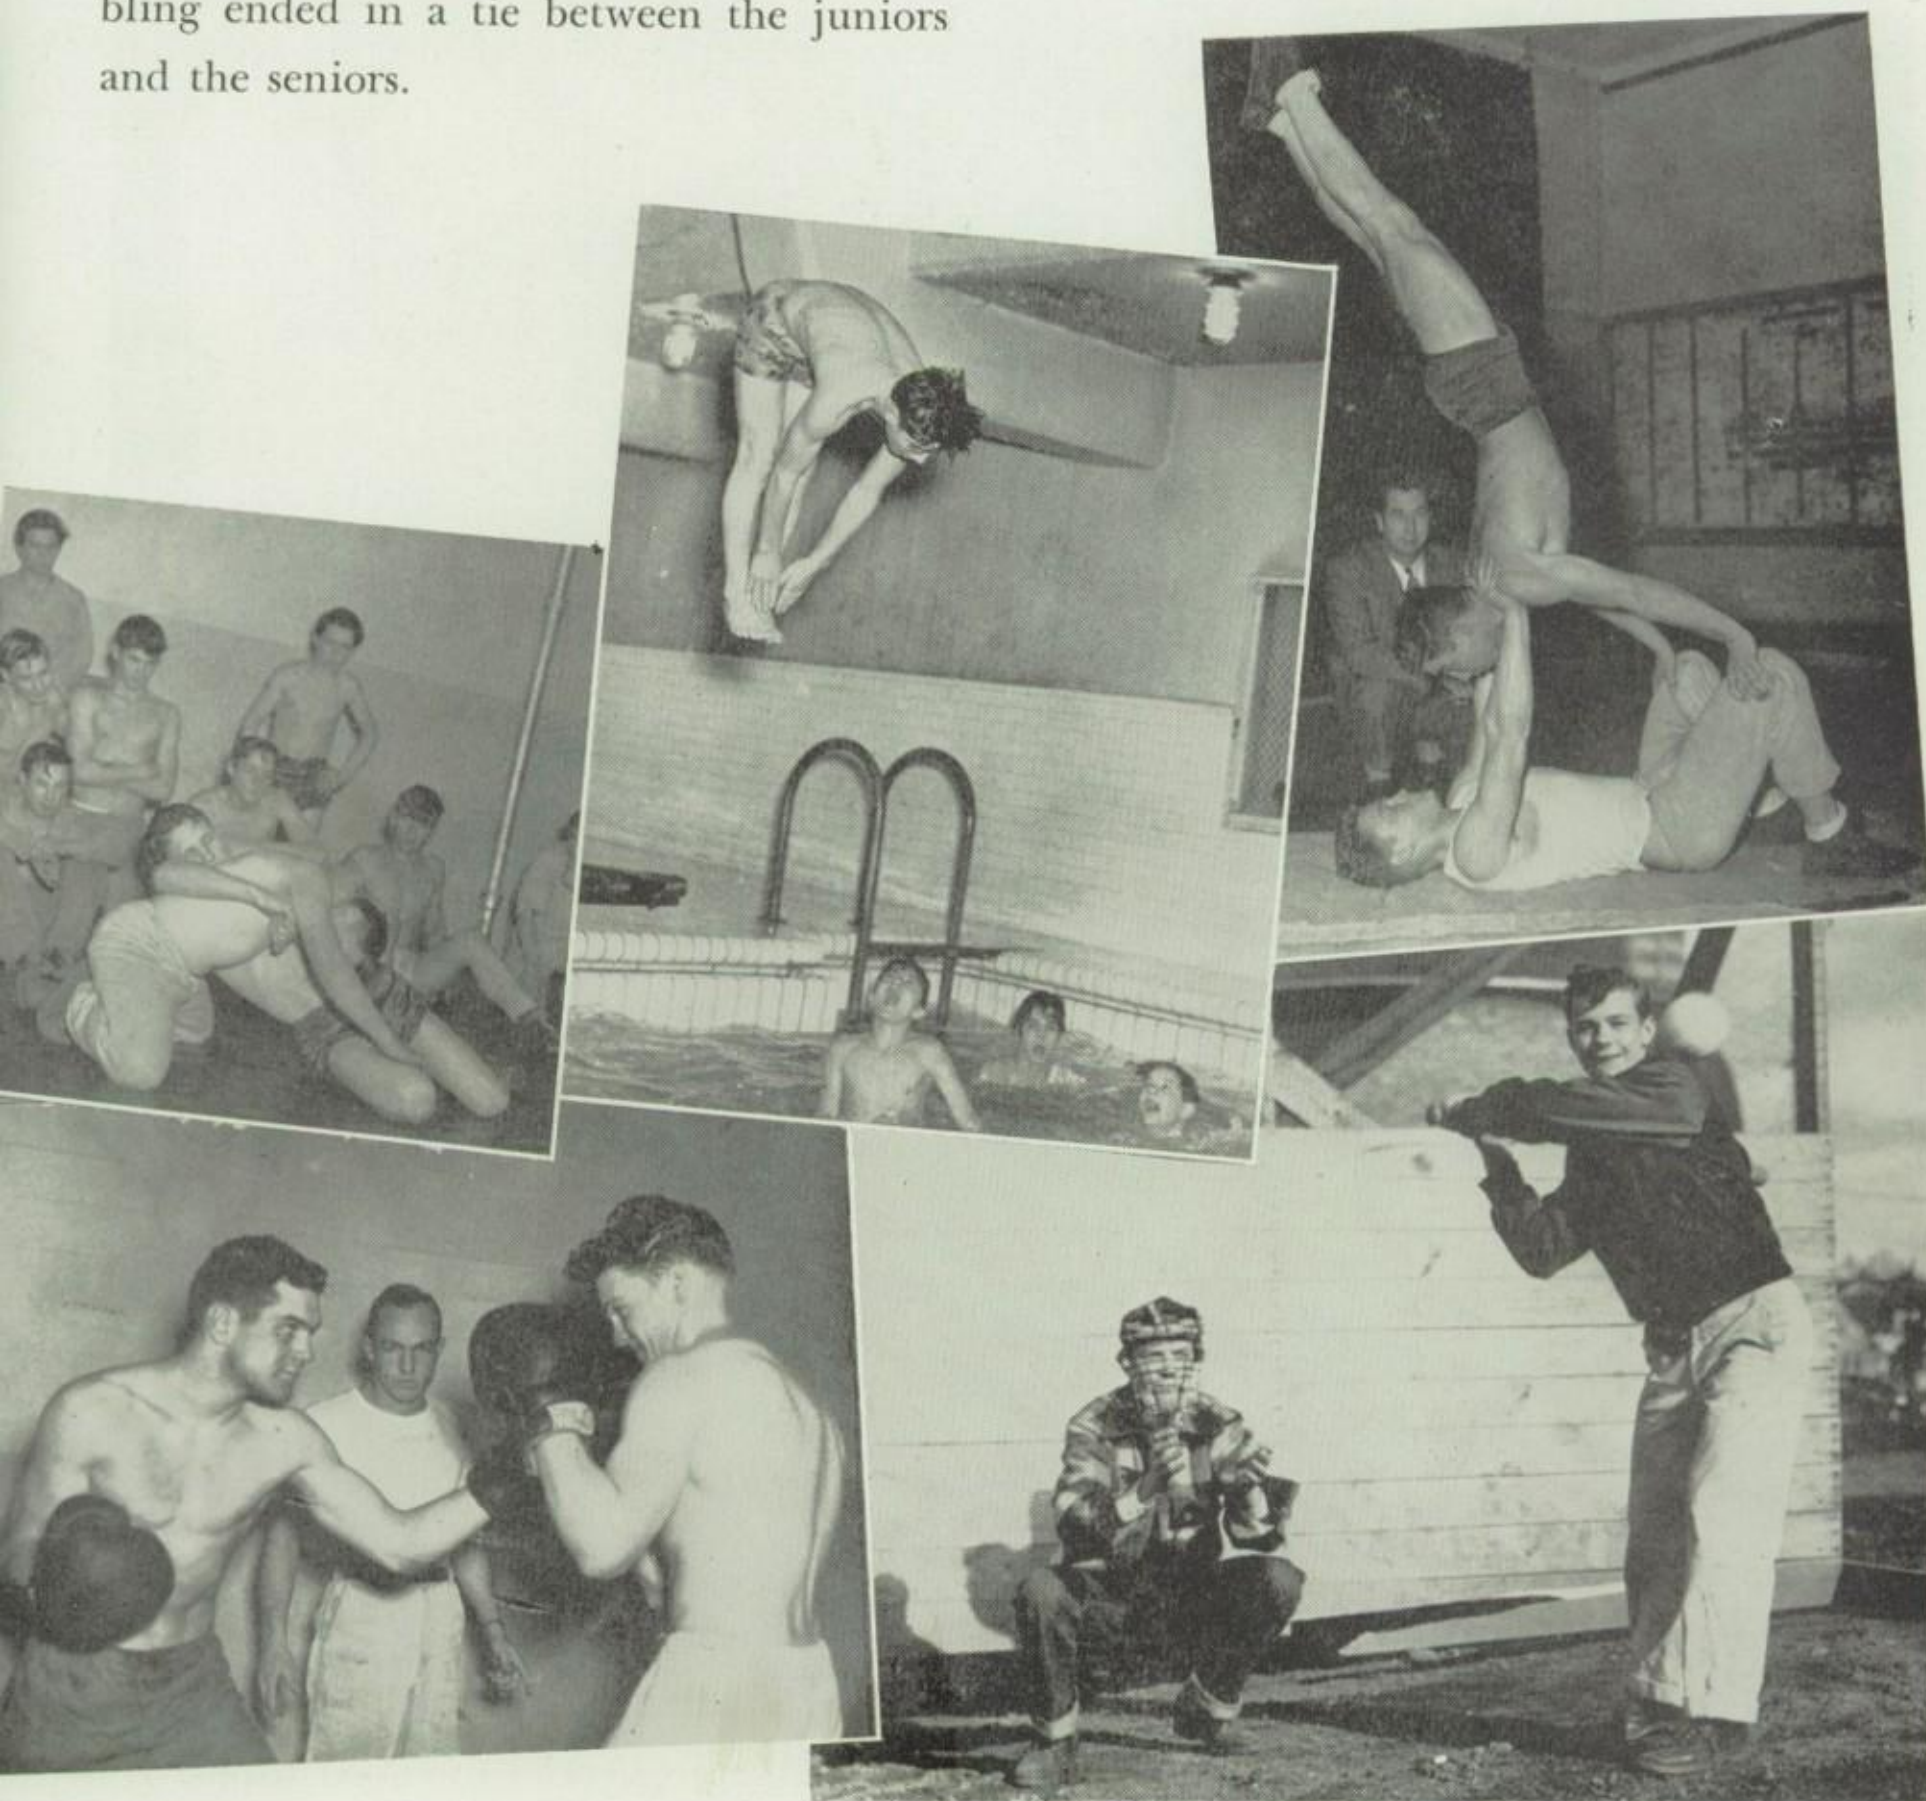

The Sports-for-All Intramural program, headed by Warren Riopelle, continued to play a big part in the recreation and activity list of many students during the fiscal year.

Under the program such games as flag football, basketball, softball, ping pong, and Q-croquet were played. This year a new sport was added to the activity list of tumbling, swimming, and wrestling, when boxing was introduced to North Central for the first time in many years.

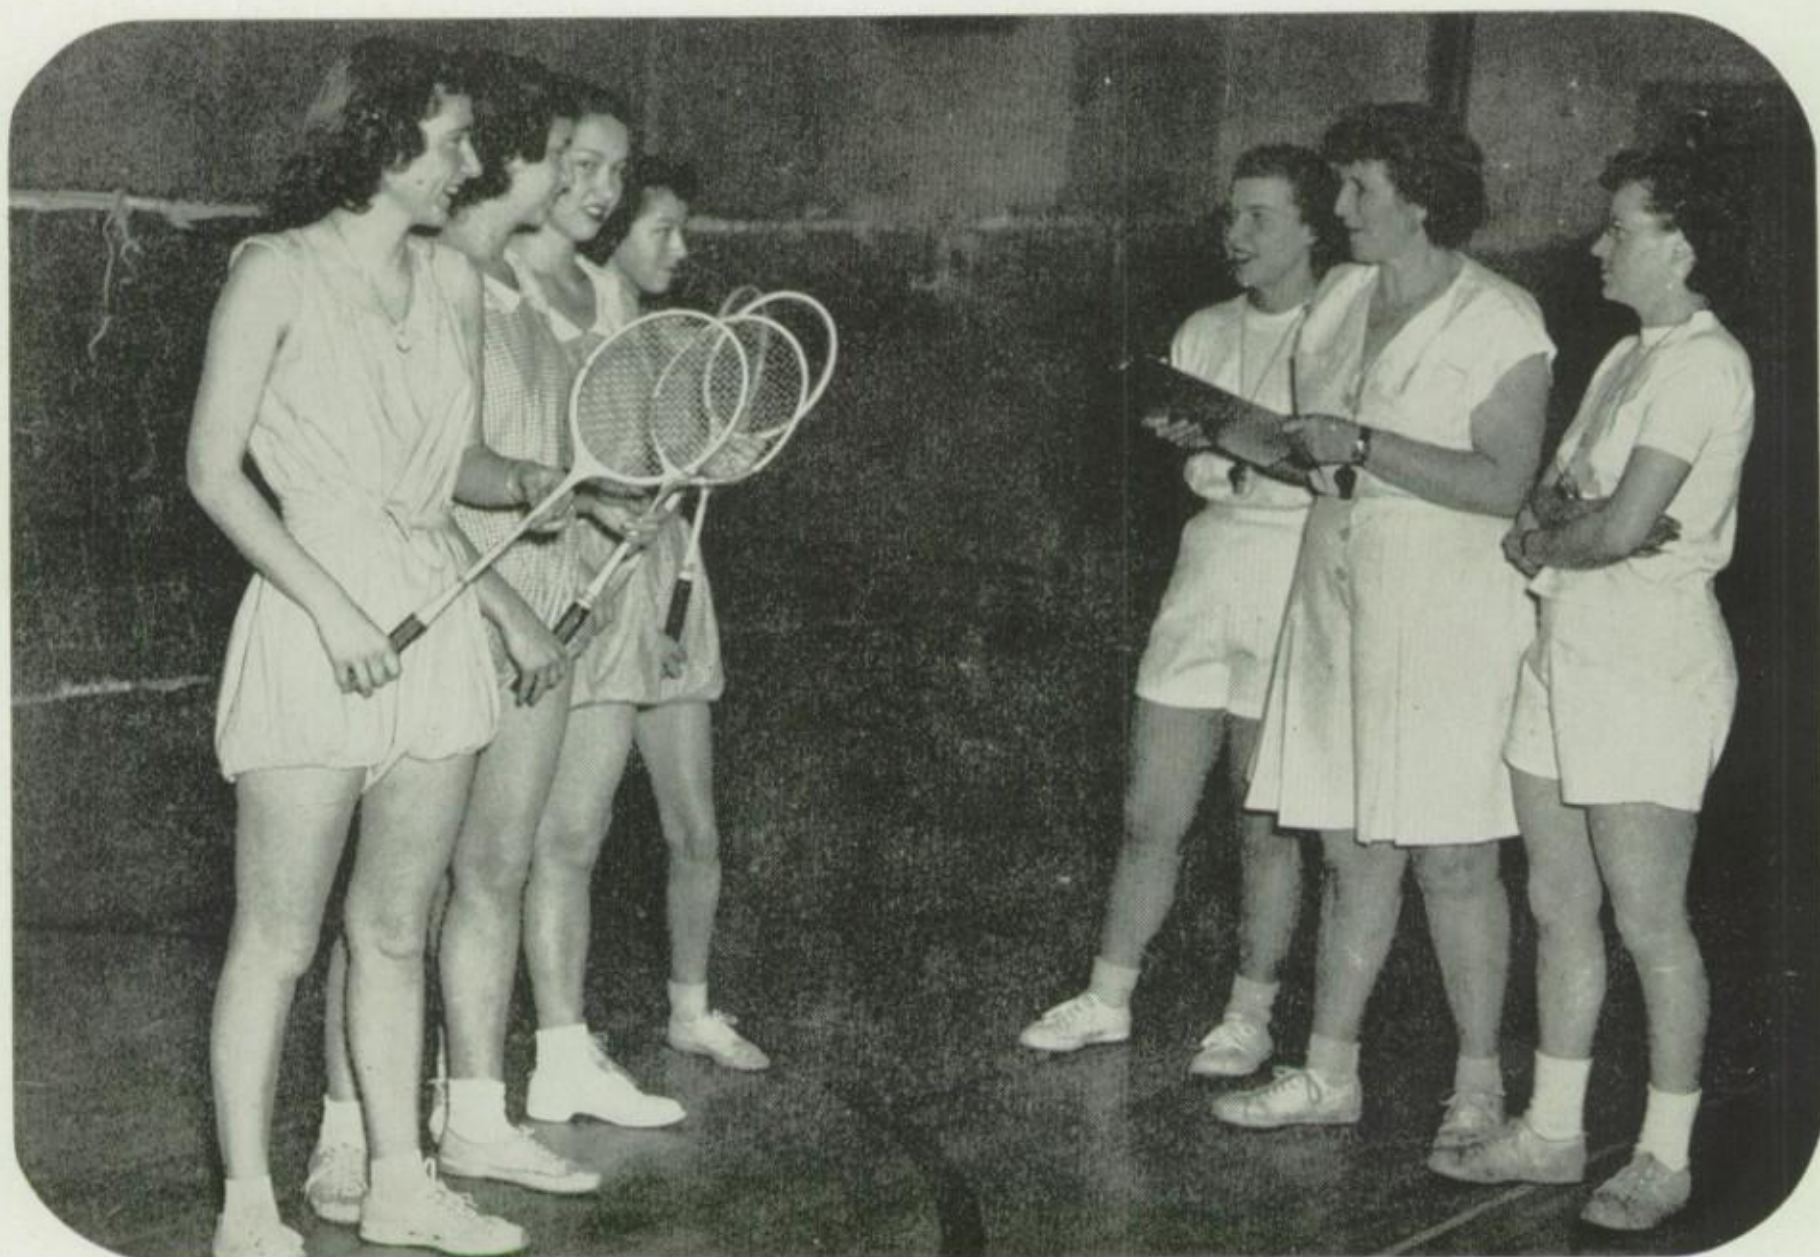

tumbling, basketball, flag ball, boxing

The juniors won the flag football title this year and the sophomores ran away with the basketball race. A Dad-Son smoker was presented in the late fall. Winning the swimming events were the juniors, the wrestling events, the freshmen; and the tumbling ended in a tie between the juniors and the seniors.

Girls' athletics provide more fun and friends

Girls who turn out for sports develop physical fitness and good sportsmanship which will be helpful in their later years. They form acquaintances with other girls and many warm friendships result.

On tennis courts, golf courses, the soft-ball field, and in the gym, healthy bodies and a healthy outlook on life are developing.

Miss Elsa Pinkham, head of the girls' P. E. department, endeavors and succeeds in establishing the highest ideals in "her" girls. She is a friend and a help to all, from the freshman to the senior.

Miss Ruth Hetherington, assistant gym teacher, has shown to all that practice and teamwork are essential for good teams.

Last fall the girls' varsity tennis team took, for the fifth time, the city championship. Miss Elsa Pinkham coached the girls and Leslie Jean Nelson and Shirley Feeder were the managers.

The tennis team meets every Monday and Thursday during period 6 and after school. Following the regular tournament, a singles tournament was held for all North Central girls wanting to participate.

Shirley Harris won the singles tournament by defeating Joyce Lee. Mary Penna and runner-up Frances Bennett took the consolation bracket.

Co-captains for the fall season were Betty Lou Mitcham and Virginia Althouse. Spring captains were Joanie Milam and Diane Springer.

Badminton . . . it takes a skillful racket

Playing before and after school on Tuesday and Wednesday were girls competing for singles and doubles honors in badminton. Miss Helen Kauppi, cadet from WSC, assisted coach Ruth Hetherington. Managers for the badminton season were Virginia Althouse and Betty Lou Mitcham.

Singles champion was Joyce Lee, while Lou Ann Habel and Jo Ann Gruber captured the doubles title.

Top girls in this tourney went to West Valley for their annual badminton tourney. Forty girls turned out to compete for the singles while sixty-two girls signed up to compete for double honors.

Girls who turned out for basketball this year were divided into teams according to grades. Because of the large number of juniors and sophomores, there were two teams for each, making a total of six. The coach was Miss Ruth Hetherington and the managers were Jeanne King and Patsy Lindberg.

Junior 2's, captained by Frances Bennett, took the championship with seven games out of seven. Dolores Straub's senior team took second, and the other junior team, with Sally Langdon as captain, took third.

Joanne Cogley was the captain of the freshman team. Marlene Bartlett and Carol Anderson were the sophomore captains.

Kathleen Bigham, who made 38 points, was high point player.

Golf . . . accurate putts and long drives win

Fifteen girls played golf at Downriver golf course every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday under the instruction of Miss Wilhelmine Timm. Dorothy Swank was appointed manager for the spring semester, and Bobbie Schussler was the captain.

Neil Christian, professional golfer, gave lessons to girls at the golf course for a small fee.

Lewis and Clark was the only other school in which there was a tourney. The girls had tournaments among themselves to provide competition for one another.

The team was delayed in starting the season because of the heavy snow last winter.

GOLF ACTION—Dorothy Swank, manager; Bobbie Schussler, captain.

Swimming . . . smooth strokes win races

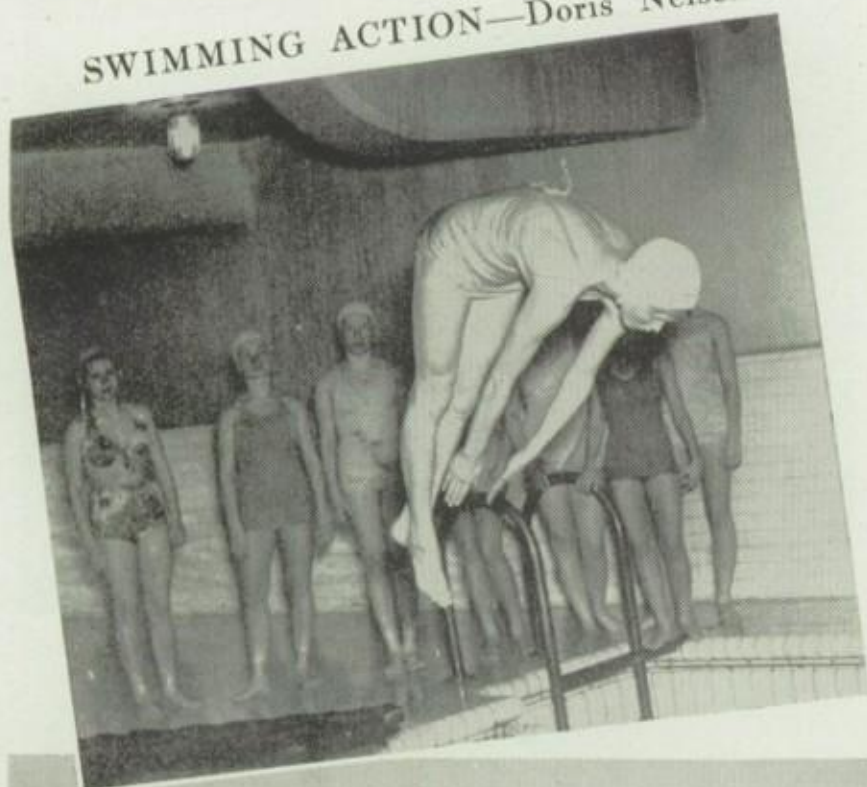

Swimming after school every Monday and Wednesday was held throughout the year. Miss Elsa Pinkham and Miss Helen Kauppi helped instruct and pass girls on Red Cross swimming tests.

In the spring, a swimming meet was held. Races included: 220-yard free style, 100-yard breast stroke, 50-yard back stroke, 50-yard crawl, 100-yard crawl, underwater swim, and 200-yard relays. Diving and plunge for distance were also included along with the races.

The girls were divided according to grade and competed against each other for championship team and high-point winner.

Kathleen Bigham and Doris Nelson were co-chairmen of the after-school swimming.

SWIMMING ACTION—Doris Nelson

Volleyball . . . sportsmanship is required

Six volleyball teams were chosen Dec. 16 at the start of the volleyball season. Miss Ruth Hetherington with the help of the managers, Nadine Ruhling and Joyce Lee, refereed the games.

When the season closed, Barbara Carr's Volleypops, junior 1 team, had taken the tournament with eight wins and one loss.

Tying for second place honors were the senior and junior 2's. Each had five wins, two losses and two ties.

Other captains were: Kathleen Bigham, Double D's; Marilyn Colony, Senior Slickers; Joann Freeman, Little Spokes; Mary Penna, Up and Over; and Carol Slosser, Speedsters.

Each team played two games Tuesday and Thursday after school for several weeks after a two-week practice session.

Every Friday, period 6, figure skating was held at the Spokane ice arena during December, January, February, and March. Anyone having period 6 free and his own skates was eligible to attend.

Miss Wilhelmine Timm and Miss Elsa Pinkham instructed the students at the ice arena, and several participated in the Northwest Figure Skating championships held at the ice arena on Feb. 18, 19.

Those who skated in the championships were Louise Waugh, Vivian Ingham, and Shirley Ingham.

Transportation was provided to the ice arena.
